

SECTION VI - STATE AND FEDERAL ACTIONS AND PROGRAMS LIKELY TO AFFECT IMPLEMENTATION

A. INTRODUCTION

On the surface, the Town of Southold's Local Waterfront Revitalization Program (LWRP) appears to be just a local plan. However, New York State law and the United States Coastal Zone Management Act, each, require that certain State and Federal actions taking place within the jurisdictional boundary of a local waterfront revitalization program plan be consistent or consistent to the maximum extent practicable with local LWRP policies and purposes. This means that all State activities must be in accordance with the State's coastal policy as articulated in a State approved local program. Similarly, all actions that are federally mandated, authorized or funded must be consistent with the State coastal management policies as expressed by the State- and Federal- approved local waterfront revitalization program. Conversely, where regulations, programs and policies were put in place at the federal or state levels prior to the adoption of a local LWRP, e.g. the Peconic Estuary Program and the Long Island Sound Study, the local LWRP should be, and in this case is, consistent.

The practical effect of the consistency requirement makes the local LWRP a unique, intergovernmental mechanism for setting policy and guiding decisions. The intent of the consistency provision is to prevent detrimental or conflicting decisions and actions by governmental agencies. Ideally, the consistency requirement will prevent future options (for cooperation and coordination) from being needlessly foreclosed.

In some cases, implementation of specific provisions of Southold's LWRP will require the active participation of State and Federal agencies. The underlying premise of the Southold LWRP is that State and Federal actions will have a hand in the implementation of the Southold Town LWRP, as well as being guided by the standards set forth in the LWRP.

Southold's LWRP is unusual in that its implementation will be affected by the policies and actions of two other States: Rhode Island, and, most particularly, Connecticut. There are three key issues, all identified earlier, where consistency and coordination between the State of New York and Connecticut, as well as between Southold and Connecticut, will be vital to effective implementation of the Town of Southold's LWRP. These three issues are:

1. the regulation of inter-state commerce as it is carried by private water-borne passenger and freight ferry companies;
2. the management of regionally significant fisheries and habitat resources in eastern Long Island and Fishers Island sounds;
3. the protection of public health, safety and welfare as it relates to emergency evacuation plans for Millstone Nuclear Power Station, a privately-owned energy facility regulated by the federal government and the State of Connecticut.

For that reason, agencies within the State of Connecticut whose actions or programs may affect implementation of Southold's LWRP, are listed in this Section.

The Town has included the U.S. Department of Homeland Security and all of the programs and activities associated with its Animal Disease Center on Plum Island (PIADC) in the following list of agencies whose actions and programs must be carried out in a manner consistent with Southold's LWRP. In June of 2003, the PIADC was moved into the jurisdiction of the U.S. Department of Homeland Security (USDHS). While the entire island is in federal ownership and such land is considered to be "federally excluded" and the laboratory is not a "listed" activity in the federal coastal management program, nevertheless the fact remains that it lies entirely within the coastal area of Southold Town's LWRP. It is the Town's position that the 1990 amendments to the Coastal Zone Management Act stipulate that all federally conducted and funded activities and those requiring federal agency authorizations, whether inside or outside the coastal area, are required to be consistent with a federally approved coastal management plan. Accordingly, the USDHS should ensure that its activities are conducted in a manner consistent to the maximum extent practicable with the Town of Southold's LWRP. Since the PIADC is not a "listed" activity, it is understood that the USDHS is not obligated to coordinate with the Town or inform the Town of its activities. However, the Town does have the right to request a formal review of the activity of concern in accordance with regulations under the jurisdiction of the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration

Section A., below, identifies the actions and programs of State and Federal agencies that should be undertaken in a manner consistent with the LWRP. This is a generic list of actions and programs, as identified by the NYS Department of State. Therefore, some of the actions and programs listed may not be relevant to this LWRP.

By contrast, there may be relevant actions and programs that are not listed. Pursuant to the State's Waterfront Revitalization of Coastal Areas and Inland Waterways Act (Executive Law, Article 42), the Secretary of State, individually and separately, is charged with notifying affected State agencies of those agency actions and programs which are to be undertaken in a manner consistent with an approved LWRP. Similarly, Federal agency actions and programs subject to consistency requirements are identified in the manner prescribed by the U.S. Coastal Zone Management Act and its implementing regulations. The lists of State and Federal actions and programs included herein are informational only. It should not be assumed that they represent or substitute for the required identification and notification procedures. Finally, the current official lists of actions subject to State and Federal consistency requirements may be obtained from the NYS Department of State.

Section B. is a more focused and descriptive list of State and Federal agency actions that are essential for successful implementation of the Southold LWRP. Section B. is presented with the clear understanding that of the following items:

1. a State or Federal agency's ability to undertake such actions is subject to a variety of factors and considerations;
2. the consistency provision referred to above, may not apply; and
3. the consistency provision cannot be used to require a State or Federal agency to undertake an action it could not undertake pursuant to other provisions of law.
